"Grants Pass v. Johnson sets the stage for the most significant Supreme Court case about the rights of homeless people in decades. At its core, this case will decide whether cities are allowed to punish people for things like sleeping outside with a pillow or blanket, even when there are no safe shelter options." ~ National Homelessness Law Center

Here in Pierce County, neither the low housing supply nor any other condition that contributes to homelessness will be solved by putting more people in jail or imposing fines on our poorest citizens. The solution to homelessness is attainable housing for everyone.
